

shuvendu panda

Odisha, jajpur

9348710327

@ 143shuvendupanda@gmail.com

Portfolio website

Profiles

suvendupanda21

Suvendu Panda

the\_suvendu official

Skills

Web Technologies

JavaScript, , HTML5/CSS3

Libraries & Framework

React.JS, Tailwind CSS,
Bootstrap5, Node.js, Express.js

Mobile Application

React Native

Database

MongoDB, Mongoose

Sub-skills

Git and GitHub , Web hosting,
Photo and video editing ,
Innovative thinking

Certifications

Web developement Certification

- Issuing Authority: QSpiders -
Description: Pursuing Full Stack
Development course.
Comprehensive coursework in
Web Development.
Sep2023

Seeking a dynamic role in web development where I can enhance my technical proficiency, collaborate with a talented team to drive organizational success, and advance my professional growth.

Education

|                                                   |                  |
|---------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| Siksha 'O' Anusandhan University           | 2021-2023 |
| Bhubaneswar                                       | MCA              |
| 82%                                               |                  |
| Utkal University                           | 2018-2021 |
| Cuttack                                           | BSC(MATHEMATICS) |
| 70%                                               |                  |
| Shanti Institute of Management and Studies | 2016-2018 |
| Cuttack                                           | 12th             |
| 56.7%                                             |                  |
| Saraswati Shishu Vidya Mandir, Singhpur    | 2016      |
| jajpur                                            | 10th             |
| 71.6%                                             |                  |

INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE

|                                                                                                                              |                  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| Contributed to the development of websites using JavaScript,React and Node.js. deploy responsive and user-friendly websites. | 2025      |
| Organization: Mobily Infotech India Pvt Ltd, Bengaluru, Role: Research Intern                                                |                  |
| Organization: PCKey , bhubaneswar, Role: MERN stack development                                                       | 2025-2026 |

Projects

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |             |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Online shopping App                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 2024 |
| Designed and developed a user-friendly e-commerce website with a responsive design using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Created a shopping cart system, ensuring a smooth user experience.                                                                                     |             |
| https://github.com/suvendupanda21/-Online-shopp ing-App -3.0                                                                                                                                    |             |
| HTML, CSS, Javascript                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |             |
| React-Based Login Authentication System                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 2024 |
| Designed and developed a React-based Login component, utilizing state management and event handling to validate user input. Implemented real-time error handling for username and password fields, ensuring secure authentication. Demonstrated proficiency in React hooks |             |
| https://github.com/suvendupanda21/Login-form-react-2.0                                                                                                                                                |             |
| React.js, CSS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |             |
| Online food delivery system                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 2024 |
| The platform allows users to simultaneously order from multiple restaurants and provides offline navigation for convenient access to selected eateries.                                                                                                                    |             |
| https://github.com/suvendupanda21/food_delivery_website                                                                                                                                              |             |
| HTML, CSS, Javascript                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |             |

Declaration

I am seeking a challenging role where I can apply and further enhance my skills in a dynamic organization.